

Quality programs that offer quality experiences all begin with a quality organization.

The Chronicle Herald Community Sport Summit is a partnership between Sport Nova Scotia, the Nova Scotia Department of Health and Wellness and the Highland Region Recreation Coordinators Association. Targeted to board/executive members, club head coaches/technical directors and community sport leaders, the event aims to offer support, resources, funding information and tools needed to empower sport leaders who are striving to offer quality programs in alignment with the Canadian Sport for Life (CS4L) movement in Canada.
